Local Matters.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 4:35 and sets at 7:28. High water at 4:15 a. m. and 4:52 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section continued warm and generally fair weather tonight and Wednesday; variable winds.

THE WARM WAVE.

The torrid wave which set in at the close of last week was in evidence throughout last night. There was a light northeasterly breeze during the day, which, however, was by no means refreshing, while the mercury was forging itself among the nineties. Toward the close of the day the breeze died out, when conditions became more sultry, driving people from their houses to the pavement or doorsteps. Some hid themselves to the river front, but the stream was glassy, and minus ripples; hence but little relief was found. The excursion steamers which landed here were crowded with Washingtonians who were endeavoring to escape the heat of the city, and their numbers were augmented by Alexandrians who had sweated during the day under the high temperature. At an early hour this morning it was seen that old Sol would reign supreme again today. The mercury soon began to climb, rendering conditions akin to those of yesterday.

THE NEW BONDS.

There was handed to the auditor this morning by the president of one of the national banks acceptance of new bonds to the amount of $49,000. In addition to being the largest amount handed in by any one person, it also represents to the amount of forty-five thousand bonds held four decades ago by one who was among Alexandria's most prosperous and liberal citizens. The bonds have thus been transmitted from sire to son and daughter, and the new bonds will perhaps at the end of another three decades be held, or partly held, by the family descendants of those who originally owned them in 1868.

The Citizens' National Bank of this city sent $43,000 of the present outstanding bonds of the city to the auditor's office this morning to be exchanged for the new four per bonds, shortly to be issued.

PROMINENT THOROUGHFARE.

The alley known as Market Space is a prominent thoroughfare. People who have business with the police station or market use this alley. One of Alexandria's prominent business men is located there, not only for business, but, for a home, and he has spent much money in improving his property. It was the rule in by-gone days to clean this alley every market day. Now it is the custom to clean it once in six weeks and its condition at times is dreadful, decayed vegetables, etc., being scattered about, causing a nuisance. When everything was dry and had nothing to do on Sunday but criticize Royal street from King to Cameron was dirty and unsanitary. The one responsible for the condition of affairs is as hard to find as it is to discern who is responsible for the enforcement of the Sunday law—no one seeming to want the honor.

RIVER NOTES.

The steamship Wilhelmus, which arrived here last week from Port Tampa, Fla., with phosphate rock to the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, left yesterday for Port Tampa where she will load again for this port.

The British steamship Nanette, partly loaded with guano for Washington, anchored off this port late yesterday evening. She proceeded up the river at an early hour this morning.

The Norwegian steamer Parcan, loaded with guano from Guanico, Venezuela, for Washington, is on her way to the latter port.

The schooner Isaac Solomon, loaded with lumber by Smoot & Co., has sailed for the lower river.

MISSING CHILDREN.

May Phillips, 15 years old, and her brother Hallen are missing from their home near Fort Hunt. Ira G. Phillips, their father, told the Washington City in appealing to them that he gave his children $3 Sunday to go to Luna Park, and that they failed to return. Mr. Phillips went to the resort but after searching could find no trace of them. The girl described as slender, of dark complexion, with light-brown hair and brown eyes. She wore a white waist, duck skirt, low tan shoes and tan stockings.

WANTS TO REPEAL SUNDAY LAWS.

It is said that a resolution will be introduced in the Board of Aldermen tonight looking to the abolition of the present city law forbidding the transaction of business of any sort in Alexandria on Sundays. Should such a resolution be passed and an ordinance eventually adopted abrogating the law, the lid could be kept down as tight as ever from the fact that the State laws would still be in force and remain so until the legislature shall have abolished them.

SAYS HE IS AN ALEXANDRIAN.

Chief of Police Goods today received a letter from New Brunswick, N. J., stating that Joseph Coakley is in custody in that city charged with breaking and entering a house and committing larceny. Coakley says he formerly lived with John Ryan in this city and claims that Ryan is his cousin.

TO USE U. S. COURT ROOM.

Judge Barley has made request of Judge Waddill, of the U. S. District Court, for the U. S. court room in this city next week for the trial of cases. The Corporation Court room is being improved and is now in such condition that it cannot be used. There is no doubt that the request will be granted.

ARRIVAL OF THE HOWITZERS.

The Richmond Howitzers, well-known but hearty and happy, after a trial march of 161 miles—from Staunton to this city—arrived here about 10 o'clock this morning.

The Howitzers traveled on foot the entire distance, only a few of the guests and members taking occasionally to the carriages and wagons which were brought along.

The Howitzers arrived at Fairfax Courthouse yesterday morning, having left Centerville at six o'clock.

The cannons broke camp at Bull Run, where they spent Sunday night, and marched to Centerville, where Jackson fought. They marched twenty-four miles Saturday to Little Georgetown and twenty miles Monday to Bull Run.

Captain John Lamb walked twenty miles Sunday. Major Henry Carter walked eighteen miles. Captain Jeter Basher and Major L. T. Christian walked all the way.

Rev. Dr. James Power Smith preached to the battery at Haymarket Sunday. The choir of the battery furnished music.

Colonel W. H. Chapman, who has been marching with the Howitzers, returned to Richmond yesterday.

The command arrived at 11:30 o'clock last night about 3 miles from this city on the Little River Turnpike where they camped.

Upon arriving in this city the command was met by Commander W. A. Smoot and several members of Lee Camp and escorted to the Confederates Veterans' Hall, where a surprise awaited them in the way of a sumptuous repast, which had been prepared by the Ladies' Auxiliary, who did themselves proud, and made the "boys" feel much fresher after their long hike by the royal reception they received.

After the Howitzers reached the Confederate Veterans' Hall Captain Myers made a few remarks, during which he expressed the appreciation of the command for the cordial welcome it had received and the entertainment afforded.

He said the Howitzers were glad they were in Alexandria where they were having a good time.

Commander Smoot subsequently introduced Comrade John M. Johnson, who extended the freedom of the city to the Howitzers and formally welcomed them on behalf of R. E. Lee Camp and the ladies' auxiliary societies. The speaker said that he regretted that the stay of the visitors would be too brief for them to take a trip to Mount Vernon.

At the close of Mr. Johnson's speech Capt. Myers introduced Capt. Powell Smith, who is the only surviving member of Stonewall Jackson's staff, and who is now a Presbyterian minister. He made a brief but appropriate speech.

Congressman John Lamb was the next speaker. During his address he thanked the members of Lee camp and the ladies' auxiliary societies for the royal manner in which they entertained the original Howitzers. The last-named walked the entire distance.

The following newspaper representatives accompanied the Howitzers: A. R. Holdridge, Jr., manager of the Richmond Journal; Evan R. Chesterman, of the Journal; Randolph Mason, of the News-Leader; and Dr. J. Powell Smith, of the Times-Dispatch.

The following are the officers and men composing the Howitzers:

No Need of Suffering from Rheumatism. It is a mistake to allow anyone to suffer from rheumatism, as the pain can always be relieved, and in most cases a cure effected by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes sleep and rest possible. Even in cases of long standing this liniment should be used on account of the relief which it affords. Do not be discouraged until you have given it a trial. For sale by W. F.
